

To Members and Friends of Oakland-Cambridge Presbyterian Church,

PARKING LOT UPDATE: Orange Barrels, Road Work, God and You! Since Spring has sprung and the melting snow sprouted the annual resurgence of orange construction barrels along roadways, we at OCPC thought... why should road construction sites be the only ones enjoying their sight? Later in May or early June, we will begin our own project with the repaving and striping of the church parking lot. There will be two phases to this project. The initial phase will to tear off the old black top and lay down a new gravel foundation. The paving company will leave it this way so it can "settle." Once it is settled, they will come back within the week to pave and stripe. The money for this project has come from the interest off of Hazel Main, Bernice Gillingham and Clyde Heberlein funds. More information on exact dates and other details will be shared as they are made known to us.

FROSTY FREEZE ANYONE? On Sunday, May 20 following worship, the Sunday School Children, Youth and their teachers will venture over to Fort Atkinson to Frosty Freeze. You are welcome to join them! P.S. While Pastor Scott has been to Fort many times to visit family and for cross country meets, he has never stopped at Frosty Freeze!

RECLAIMING JESUS: A CONFESSION OF FAITH IN A TIME OF CRISIS:

Prior to Easter, for our Affirmation of Faith, we used the Declaration of Barmen. Written in 1934, it “was a call to resistance against the theological claims of the Nazi state which pressured the Church and its leaders to adopt the Nazi ‘Führer Principle’ as the organizing principle of church government.” Many in the Church embraced these principles that glorified Adolf Hitler as a ‘German prophet’ and preached that racial consciousness was a source of revelation alongside the Bible. In response to Hitler and the Nazi state, “some church leaders gathered at Barmen to write and adopt a declaration drafted by Reformed theologian Karl Barth and Lutheran theologian Hans Asmussen, which expressly repudiated the claim that other powers apart from Christ could be sources of God’s revelation.”

In a similar way, a group of Church leaders here in the United States gathered on Ash Wednesday to address growing concerns around a variety of moral and social justice issues facing our nation today. Similar to the Declaration of Barmen, these religious leaders (see signers below) drafted a new declaration called – “Reclaiming Jesus - A Confession of Faith in a Time of Crisis”

<http://www.reclaimingjesus.org/> We will be exploring their confession during worship as our Affirmation of Faith. Each section has two parts. It begins with a “We Believe” and then follows with a “Therefore We Reject”. While this Declaration is not a part of the PCUSA’s Book of Confession, it does, like the Declaration of Barmen, offer us much to think and reflect on as followers of Jesus Christ. I would invite you to read through their Confession of Faith at <http://www.reclaimingjesus.org/>. If you would like a printed copy of the Confession, please speak with Pastor Scott. He can make arrangements for you to have a printed version. As a side note, the entire Book of Confessions is found online at:

Reclaiming Jesus: A Confession of Faith in A Time of Crisis (ReclaimingJesus.org)

From the religious leaders: WE ARE DEEPLY CONCERNED for the soul of our nation, but also for our churches and the integrity of our faith. The present crisis calls us to go deeper— deeper into our relationship to God; deeper into our relationships with each other, especially across racial, ethnic, and national lines; deeper into our relationships with the most vulnerable, who are at greatest risk. The church is always subject to temptations to power, to cultural conformity, and to racial, class, and gender divides, as Galatians 3:28 teaches us. But our answer is to be “in Christ,” and to “not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your minds, so that you may discern what is the will of God—what is good and acceptable, and perfect.” (Romans 12:1-2) The best response to our political, material, cultural, racial, or national idolatries is the First Commandment: “You shall have no other gods before me” (Exodus 20:3). Jesus summarizes the Greatest Commandment: “You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, your soul, and your mind. This is the first commandment. And the second is like unto it. You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these commandments hang all the law and the prophets” (Matthew 22:38). As to loving our neighbors, we would add “no exceptions.” We commend this letter to pastors, local churches, and young people who are watching and waiting to see what the churches will say and do at such a time as this. Our urgent need, in a time of moral and political crisis, is to recover the power of confessing our faith. Lament, repent, and then repair. If Jesus is Lord, there is always space for grace. We believe it is time to speak and to act in faith and conscience, not because of politics, but because we are disciples of Jesus Christ—to whom be all authority, honor, and glory. It is time for a fresh confession of faith. Jesus is Lord. He is the light in our darkness. “I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will not walk in darkness, but will have the light of life” (John 8:12).
